If you have signed up for Honors credit, then you must complete an additional project. Specifically, you need to write two papers based on essays by Gould.

Select two of the eight essays listed below. For each essay that you select, write a paper, one to three pages, double-spaced, on a topic of your choice related to the essay (thus, you will turn in two papers). I am particularly interested in papers that describe how an essay relates to your personal experiences, philosophy, interests, or education. These papers are due in my mailbox by 5:00 PM on Monday, December 12, 2011. Alternatively, you may give your paper to me in lecture at any time this semester.

Please email me (hanlon@stat.wisc.edu) to let me know that you have signed up for Honors credit and that you understand the Honors requirement.

   - Chapter 6 of text: Of Wasps and WASPs, pages 155–166.

   - Chapter 1 of text: The Chain of Reason versus the Chain of Thumbs, pages 182–197.
   - Chapter 5 of text: In a Jumbled Drawer, pages 309–324.